Asymmetrical

INTRO

Piero Lissoni is the designer behind Tecno's Asymmetrical system, based on a contemporary concept of technology concealed by pure, minimalist forms, and held in a precise, almost rarefied equilibrium.

The Asymmetrical system is constituted by large meeting tables with asymmetrical tops that contrast with rigorously geometrical and essential solid supports that hint at modern art and recent Lissoni's work in the field of architecture. The tables can be combined to form large work stations, meeting tables and desks where everything is instantly to hand. With its combination of pure volumes and striking light effects, the Asymmetrical series stands out for stylish forms, suspended cantilever tops, various types of side by side cabinet and recessed, secret storage compartments.

The desks and meeting tables are available in a choice of combinations and dimensions. Worktops can be finished in matt or gloss white and dark grey lacquer or in light, medium or dark oak, grey and dark brown latti. The meeting table bases can be lacquered in gloss white and dark grey, or matt white and dark grey.

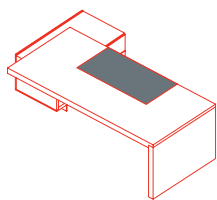

The Solenoids are small round tables with tops of various size and height that make ideal complementary elements. Their tops are finished in white or dark grey back-painted ultra-clear glass while the bases come in white or dark grey matt lacquer.
