INTRO

A cosy armchair that encourages thought and meditation.

The mono-satinised shell frames the soft cushion in an armchair where technique and tactile effect combine in a slender, enveloping form. The armchair defines a personal area within large environments such as coworking, lounges, open spaces, , as well as in collective areas and public places. The technological and refined aesthetics, combined with superior comfort, make the product perfect even in domestic situations or high-end executive offices. Aura is an armchair available with a higher or lower backrest, for differing comfort positions, and can be combined with the matching footrest.
